Chicago, IL – March 16, 2009 – S2Verify, LLC a new, process innovator in the employment screening market, created to address chronic deficiencies in the industry's response to unmet customer demand, today announced the opening of its new office in Atlanta, Georgia. “We see Atlanta as a critical market center for any rapidly growing national background screening company”, says Bill Whitford, a long-time pioneer and innovator in the background screening industry and the company's CEO. “We are also seeing a steady increase in the number of assignments coming from businesses in this area.”

Located in Roswell, Georgia, one of the Atlanta areas evolving growth centers, the S2Verify Atlanta office will share responsibility for addressing management priorities with S2Verify's Chicago-based corporate headquarters while also assuming most of the company's day-to-day administrative, financial, sales and customer-service operations.
